The air contaminant source(s) identified in this permit may not cause a public nuisance in violation of OAC Rule 3745-15-07.

ADDITIONAL SPECIAL TERMS AND CONDITIONS

1. VOC emissions from the hexane extraction operation emanate from Ohio EPA Source No.'s P039, P040 and P046. It is impractical to attempt to determine emission rates on a source-by-source basis. The VOC emission rates of this permit represent the allowable emissions from all three sources.
2. Hexane consumption/emission rates from the hexane extraction operation shall be determined on a "mass balance" basis. Consumption/emission rates shall not exceed the following levels:
 - A. Hexane consumption in sources P039, P040 and P046 shall not exceed 140,000 gallons (392 tons) per rolling twelve month period;
 - B. The emissions of hexane from sources P039, P040 and P046 shall not exceed 0.24 gallons per ton crushed soybeans (.000671 pounds of hexane per pound of crushed soybeans), based on a 365-day rolling weighted average; and
 - C. The short-term loss of hexane from sources P039, P040 and P046 shall not exceed 65.32 tons in any rolling 30 day period.
3. The company shall maintain daily records which contain the following information for sources P039, P040 and P046:
 - A. The total quantity of soybeans weighted in the preparation process before the hexane extraction operation;
 - B. The change in the amount of hexane inventory;
 - C. The 365-day rolling weighted average hexane loss rate (gallons per ton of crushed soybeans, and pounds hexane per pound crushed soybeans);
 - D. The amount of hexane lost in the previous 30-day period (tons per rolling 30-day period);
 - E. All incidences of startup or shutdown of these sources (this should include all amounts of hexane that are routinely added to the system or returned to the storage tank due to startup or shutdown. This amount of hexane is process hexane that is present in the system during shutdown and needs to be charged back into the system during startup. The amount of hexane used to "recharge" the system should not be interpreted as a "hexane loss" in calculating emission rates.);
 - F. Dates of scheduled cleaning/maintenance; and
 - G. Dates of any process upsets.

4. The company shall notify the Ohio EPA within forty-five days of any exceedance of the emission limitations/usage restrictions in this permit. The company shall submit quarterly reports documenting all exceedances of the emission limitations/usage restrictions of this permit to the Ohio EPA Northwest District Office. For each exceedance, the company shall also provide the following additional information:
 - A. The cause of the excursion; and
 - B. The action that has been taken and/or will be taken to correct the violation and prevent further occurrences.

5. All reports are to be submitted to Ohio EPA Northwest District Office, 347 N. Dunbridge Rd., Bowling Green, OH 43402.
